Missing in Action?

Older People and the Social Inclusion Agenda

11th February, 2011

9.30 am to 12 pm

Mitchell Theatre, Sydney Mechanics' School
280 Pitt Street Sydney

Despite the importance placed on ideals of social inclusion, older Australians are not currently identified as a target group in the Australian Social Inclusion Agenda. Older people who are excluded from employment face potential isolation, poverty, ill-health and marginalisation.

Can the social inclusion approach provide the right principles of social justice to take on the threats of disadvantage that older people continue to face?

Guest Speaker: Professor Chris Phillipson (only Sydney presentation)

Professor of Applied Social Studies and Social Gerontology Keele University (UK),
Past President of the British Society of Gerontology
