

CAPITALISING ON THE
AGEING DIVIDEND

RE-IMAGINING OUR FUTURE

49th
AAG
CONFERENCE

ABORIGINAL CULTURAL DIVERSITY

WORKSHOP HOSTED BY

AAG Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Ageing Advisory Group (ATSIAAG)

FACILITATED BY

Mark Elliott
Ngarrindjeri Elder and Chair of ATSIAAG

This workshop takes a unique look at Aboriginal Culture and the diversity within it. For too long many people have treated Aboriginal cultural awareness as a homogenous overview without highlighting the rich diversity that lies within Aboriginal cultures and communities.

The facilitator is Mark Elliott, a Ngarrindjeri Elder from the Coorong in South Australia. Mark will invite you to take part in a “conversation” about culture, what it is like for an Aboriginal person to live and work in Australia and how history has influenced Aboriginal people today. He will give some simple tips and techniques for working with Aboriginal people in a respectful way.

The workshop is not designed to make you culturally aware; it is designed to make you aware of culture.

Mark will invite you to ask questions, share experiences and leave you with an understanding that not all Aboriginal people are the same and that the different beliefs, dreamings and lores need to be acknowledged and considered.
