▶ ORGANISATIONAL BUNDLES

The Organisational Bundle is a cost effective individual membership offer to allow an organisation's staff to enjoy the full benefits of AAG membership. * AAG does not operate on an organisational representative basis to maintain the independence of our voice. Everyone is a member of AAG as an individual. For example, when developing AAG position papers we seek your input as an individual member, not as a representative of an organisation. AAG's process for seeking endorsements on positions from organisations, where relevant, is separate to our member engagement process

There are two types of Organisational Bundles: 1 - 2 nominated members

3 - 5 nominated members
