

January 2019

Dear ACT AAG Members and Friends,

We are pleased to share with you the following updates:

1. Stay tuned for announcements for upcoming AAG ACT events in 2019.
 - Save the dates for the 52nd AAG Conference, to be held at the International Convention Centre in Sydney from the 5th to the 8th of November, 2019.
2. Other events:
 - Global Mediterranean diet, cardiovascular disease and ageing expert, Professor Demosthenes Panagiotakos of Harokopio University (Greece) is visiting Canberra next week and will be holding a free seminar on Wednesday, the 30th of January between 1:30 pm - 2:30 pm at the University of Canberra.
 - The title of the talk is: “Methodological Issues in the development of Diet Scores; an example from the Mediterranean diet and cardiovascular disease risk modelling”.
 - Location and registration details are HERE
3. New publications:
 - The 2019 Report on Government Services Aged Care chapter was released this week:
 - This chapter focuses on government funded care and support services for older people and their carers, which are provided at home, in the community and in residential care facilities.
 - The chapter and associated datasets can be found HERE
 - Great work by University of Canberra researchers in collaboration with Goodwin Aged Care Services:
 - “Pharmacist-led influenza vaccination services in residential aged care homes: A pilot study” – Congrats to committee member Nicole McDerby!
 - Click HERE to read the article in the Australasian Journal on Ageing.
 - Do you have a new publication to share in the next newsletter? Let us know!
4. Did you attend the AAG Conference in 2018? Professional photographs can be found HERE

Warm Regards,

ACT AAG Committee
