Advanced Care Planning: It's About Respecting Choice!

Advance Care Planning (ACP) is the process of planning for a person's future health and personal care. ACP helps ensure that individuals' choices are respected for future medical treatment. Their beliefs, values and preferences are made known, in order to guide future care in the event that the person is unable to make decisions or communicate.

The forum will cover the whole of the ACP process with a focus on communication, 'difficult conversations', when to enact a plan, quality, validity, and compliance of completed ACPs. It explores the challenges faced by health services to ensure an individual's plan is visible across a diverse range of health providers.

- Learn more about the Victorian Medical Treatment Act
- Consider the complexities of burden vs benefit of treatments
- Understand the ACP process
- Explore how you can support individuals to discuss their perspectives
- Develop skills to facilitate ACP/ difficult conversations
- Analyse the data both local and national, and if ACP worth doing
